

GIS, Fires, Homeland Security & San Diego

Join us for the 3rd GIS Lunch and hear Paul Hardwick of the SDSU Foundation for Homeland Security tell us about his experiences with GIS in Firestorm 2007, San Diego's regional GIS efforts, and the benefits of GIS for homeland security and disaster management.

GIS Lunch Series

(And yes, it's a free lunch!)

Wednesday

November 14, 2007

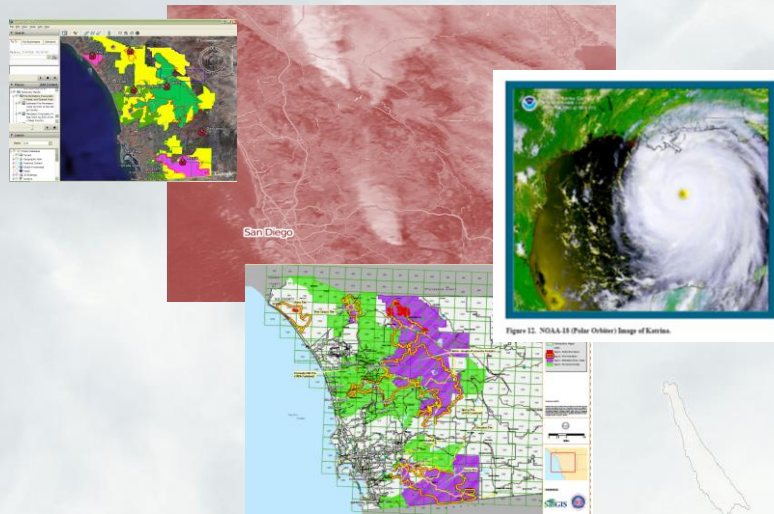

(That's GIS Day!)

Geisel Library, Seuss Room

(Main floor, go left, then left again)

Lunch starts @ 12:15 pm

Talk @ 12:30 – 1:30 pm

RSVP required by Nov. 12 at <http://govinfo.ucsd.edu/gis/> for the lunch & talk.

Space is limited so sign up soon!

Lunch generously provided by the Social Sciences & Humanities Library.