FOR LOVE . . . AND FOR JUSTICE

"... If you pour yourself out for the hungry and satisfy the desire of the afflicted, then shall your light rise in the darkness and your gloom be as the noonday ... and you shall be like a watered garden, like a spring of water, whose currents never fail."

(Isaiah 58:10-11)

Seasonal and micrant farm workers are important people. They harvest the food we eat. Their children, too often, work beside them. But there is not enough work and wages are often very low. Even with other members of the family working the majority of migrant families in America eam less than $3,000 per year.

Farm workers are not asking for charity; nor do they feel helpless about their plight. They are getting together in their own union. They are patiently and persistently and non-violently trying to build a better life for themselves and their children.

"The struggle is not just for us . . . it is for our children and our children's children"

"So long as we are willing to sacrifice, so long as we persist in non-violence and work to spread the message of our struggle, then millions of people around the world will respond from their hearts, will support our efforts . . . and in the end we will overcome. It can be done. We know it can be done. Si, se puede!" (Cesar Chavez)

If you are interested but unconvinced about the United Farm Worker's struggle for justice we will be glad to provide some interpretive material. If you are convinced and want to help, please take note of the tear-off below.

Ple	ease send me information about:
1	want to help leaflet at a local store; please	contact me.
	support the United Farm Workers and will Il not eat table grapes and head lettuce un gle label.	avoid all Gallo wines and nless I see the UFW azter
En	closed is my contribution.
Neme:	closed is my contribution.	Phone:
		Phone:
Neme:		ty: