

Accession No.: 92-40

PROCESSING RECORD
SCRIPPS INSTITUTION OF OCEANOGRAPHY ARCHIVES

Williams, Milo Woodbridge, 1917-

Milo Woodbridge Williams Photographs, 1909-1967

Physical Description: 1 Lmss

Description: The collection consists of photographs of Milo Woodbridge Williams dated 1909-1967. "Woody" Williams was a professional photographer who was a graduate student and laboratory technician at the Scripps Institution of Oceanography from January 1947 to February 1948.

Milo Woodbridge Williams
Photographs, 1948-1967
Accession Number 92-40

BOX

FOLDER TITLE

1

Sea World San Diego, Porpoise Show, August 1967

Williams Photographs (Negatives) – Marin County and San Francisco

San Francisco, California, circa 1949. Dr. Edwin Van Dyke, entomologist emeritus in his study at the California Academy of Sciences, Golden Gate Park. (Also see butterfly mounting series with Ed Ross)

San Francisco, California. The court in front of the Steinhart aquarium. 1948 Feeding California sea lions in outdoor pools in the court in front of the Steinhart Aquarium. (2)

Tomales Bay, Marin Co., California circa 1953. Don Simpson and assistant collector from the Steinhart Aquarium, California Academy of Sciences, San Francisco, seine Tomales Bay at Marshall for pipefish and other inhabitants of the eelgrass beds. Writer, Barnaby Conrad, an aquarium hobbyist, looks on. (5)

San Francisco, Golden Gate Park, California. Circa 1950 Alice Eastwood and Tom Howell in their botany department at the California Academy of Sciences. (5)

San Francisco, Golden Gate Park, CA. Cecil Tose, taxidermist and diorama preparatory works on exhibits for African Hall, California Academy of Sciences. Circa 1948 (11)

San Francisco, California. Edward Ross demonstrate proper technique for mounting butterflies. Circa 1948 (13)

San Francisco, California. Circa 1948. Edward Ross, curator of entomology, California Academy of Sciences, Golden Gate Park, demonstrates proper mounting of butterflies (7)

San Francisco, California. 1949 Earl Herald, director, Steinhart Aquarium, demonstrates turtles to school children (2)

Milo Woodbridge Williams
Photographs, 1948-1967
Accession Number 92-40

BOX	FOLDER TITLE
1	Williams Photographs (Negatives) – Marin County and San Francisco (continued) Deep Ravine Beach Camp, Marin Co. Calif. 1950 (2) Pt. Reyes Seven Mile Beach, Marin Co., Calif. 1950 (2) Tomales Bay, Marin Co. California circa 1950. Students of Joel Hedgpeth from the College of the Pacific Marine Station at Dillon Beach, examine a giant sunstar, Pycnopodia helianthoides , gathered from the low tide zone at the mouth of Tomales Bay. They stand on the deck of the Bios Pacifica , research vessel for the marine laboratory. Veleva and Lepas [jellyfish] heaped up on the beach in Half Moon Bay, California. (4) Point Reyes light sunset La Jolla, Calif Aerial view – La Jolla, Calif. [looking east at coastline with Scripps Hospital, Bishop School, La Jolla High School, Mount Soledad in back] La Jolla Cove, circa 1917 or 1909 [negative] Unidentified man on Scripps beach, shaking hands with large wet dog, with pier in background Unidentified man Sam Hinton (2) Miscellaneous Cruise – Photographs Unidentified man (3) Unidentified man with shark specimen, looking at book