AGREEMENT for University of California, San Diego

1. [Text deleted] Editor-in-chief and Web Manager of the combined Digital Dictionary of Buddhism and CJKV-English Dictionary, located at the URL <http://www.buddhism-dict.net> will provide a one-year subscription to the Digital Dictionary of Buddhism and CJKV-English Dictionary at the URL <http://www.buddhism-dict.net>, from January 1, 2016 through December 31, 2016.

"Authorized Users" are:

Persons Affiliated with the University of California. Full and part time employees (including faculty, staff, and independent contractors) and students of Licensee and the institution of which it is a part, regardless of the physical location of such persons.

Walk-ins. Patrons not affiliated with Licensee who are physically present at Licensee's site(s) ("walk-ins").

2. We will notify the University of California, San Diego Library representatives in the case of any expected break in service of this resource, and refund the University of California, San Diego proportionally in the event of any permanent discontinuance of the resource before the completion of the agreed term.

3. In the case of hacking attempts on the resource (such as programmed attempts to extract the entire data set) coming from within the University of California, San Diego Network, it may be necessary to place temporary limits on daily quotas, or stop access for a period of days (at least within certain IP ranges), until the cause of the problem is resolved. In the event of such a case, we will work with the University of California, San Diego to find a rapid solution. The University of California, San Diego shall make reasonable efforts to secure the cessation of such unauthorized use and prevent its recurrence.

4. Notwithstanding anything to the contrary in this Agreement, no term or provision of this contract shall be interpreted to limit or restrict the rights of University of California, San Diego and its Authorized users, including fair use rights, provided by U.S. Copyright and other applicable intellectual property law. Authorized Users shall not be restricted from extracting or using information contained in the Service for educational, scientific, or research purposes, including extraction and manipulation of information for the purpose of illustration, explanation, example, comment, criticism, teaching, research, or analysis. The University of California, San Diego may include copies of items from the online resources (i) in anthologies (coursepacks) in print or digital form for sale and/or distribution to the Authorized Users for their use in connection with classroom instruction, and/or (ii) in print or electronic reserves set up by University of California, San Diego libraries for access by Authorized Users in connection with specific courses offered by the University of California, San Diego. Copies of items in digital form which are included in online coursepacks or reserves will be removed from access by the University of California, San Diego after the end of the term in which the related course concludes.

5. The University of California, San Diego's Confidential Information are any passwords or other user-identifiable information used by University of California, San Diego users in accessing or registering for access to this resource and all Server Logs compiled by the publisher that refer to University of California, San Diego users. The publisher shall hold the University of California, San Diego's Confidential Information in confidence and shall not disclose such Confidential Information to third parties nor use the University of California, San Diego's Confidential Information for any purpose other than as necessary to perform under the terms of this agreement.

6. The publisher will make efforts so that this resource is compatible with the use of assistive technology hardware and software, including but not limited to screen readers, speech synthesizers, and alternative input devices, and shall conform to the World Wide Web Consortium's Web Content Accessibility Guidelines, available at <http://www.w3.org/WAI/GL/>.

If the Licensed Materials are not compliant with Federal standards and W3C guidelines at the time of contract signing, the publisher agrees to work toward such compliance and to report to Licensee periodically on its progress.

7. The publisher's use of the name "University of California, San Diego" (alone or as part of another name) in advertising or promotional materials shall be permitted only upon the prior written approval of, and in accordance with restrictions agreed to by the University of California, San Diego.

8. Access via University of California, San Diego proxy services is permitted for authorized University of California, San Diego users.

9. The Licensor shall indemnify and hold Licensee and Authorized Users harmless for any losses, claims, damages, awards, penalties, or injuries incurred, including reasonable attorney's fees, which arise from any claim by any third party of an alleged infringement of copyright or any other property right arising out of the use of the Licensed Materials by the Licensee or any Authorized User. NO LIMITATION OF LIABILITY SET FORTH ELSEWHERE IN THIS AGREEMENT IS APPLICABLE TO THIS INDEMNIFICATION.

Each party shall indemnify and hold the other harmless for any losses, claims, damages, awards, penalties, or injuries incurred, including reasonable attorney's fees, which arise from any alleged breach of such indemnifying party's representations and warranties made under this Agreement, provided that the indemnifying party is promptly notified of any such claims.

The indemnifying party shall have the right to defend such claims at its own expense. The other party shall provide assistance in investigating and defending such claims as the indemnifying party may reasonably request and have the right to participate in the defense at its own expense.
