Tomorrow, for our children
Looks bleak and hard and cold.
Small Backs bent beneath the sun.
At Twelve, they’re half-way old.
They work the land one million strong.
They need a future too.
Tomorrow, For our children
It could be up to you.

During the Christmas Season
Let us reflect on the lives of children still working in the fields.

Help end child labor.
Support the United Farm Workers Union.