more

TIMES, January 30, 1936

...than the demonstration of the farm labor board."

A&I Labor Board Collapses

But...

As the bargaining agent at 91 Ranches, the union has been certified by the National Labor Relations Board. The union members, who have been wage earners for many years, have voted overwhelmingly to accept the contract. The contract provides for a 5% increase in wages, plus a 5% bonus for the first six months of employment, and a 10% bonus for the second six months.

The company has agreed to the contract, which has been ratified by the union members. The contract also includes provisions for health and welfare benefits, including medical insurance and life insurance.

The contract has been signed by both the company and the union, and it will take effect on January 1, 1936. The company has agreed to maintain the wages and benefits provided in the contract, and the union has agreed to abide by the terms of the contract.

To date, contracts have been signed with 91 Ranches and other companies, and the union has been active in negotiating contracts with other companies. The union has also been active in militating for fair wages and working conditions for farm laborers.

Victories!

Chicago Daily News

Shake-Up of the National Farm Workers Association

The National Farm Workers Association, or the NFWA, was formed in 1934 to represent farm laborers in the United States. The association sought to improve the living and working conditions of farm laborers, and to negotiate contracts that provided fair wages and benefits.

The NFWA has been active in negotiating contracts with farm laborers in various states, and has been successful in securing fair wages and benefits for its members. The association has also been active in militating for better working conditions and safer working environments for farm laborers.

The NFWA has faced challenges in negotiating contracts, and has been met with opposition from some farm owners and managers. The association has also faced criticism from some labor unions for its focus on farm laborers.

Despite these challenges, the NFWA has made significant progress in improving the lives of farm laborers. The association has been successful in negotiating contracts that provide fair wages and benefits, and has been active in militating for better working conditions and safer working environments for farm laborers.

On January 30, 1936, the NFWA announced that a new contract agreement had been reached with the Western Canners Association. The agreement provides for a 30% increase in wages, plus a 10% bonus for the first six months of employment, and a 20% bonus for the second six months.

The agreement also includes provisions for health and welfare benefits, including medical insurance and life insurance. The agreement has been signed by both the company and the union, and it will take effect on January 1, 1936. The company has agreed to maintain the wages and benefits provided in the agreement, and the union has agreed to abide by the terms of the agreement.

The agreement is a significant victory for the NFWA, and it represents a significant step forward in the fight for fair wages and benefits for farm laborers. The association has been active in negotiating contracts with other companies, and it has made significant progress in improving the lives of farm laborers.

On February 1, 1936, the NFWA announced that a new contract agreement had been reached with the United Farm Workers Association. The agreement provides for a 25% increase in wages, plus a 10% bonus for the first six months of employment, and a 15% bonus for the second six months.

The agreement also includes provisions for health and welfare benefits, including medical insurance and life insurance. The agreement has been signed by both the company and the union, and it will take effect on February 1, 1936. The company has agreed to maintain the wages and benefits provided in the agreement, and the union has agreed to abide by the terms of the agreement.

The agreement is a significant victory for the NFWA, and it represents a significant step forward in the fight for fair wages and benefits for farm laborers. The association has been active in negotiating contracts with other companies, and it has made significant progress in improving the lives of farm laborers.
The protest is scheduled for 11 AM on October 23rd at the (location). The purpose of the protest is to call for fair treatment of workers and an end to labor abuses. If you wish to participate, please meet at the (meeting point) by 10:45 AM.

Protestors are encouraged to wear red and bring signs to show support. We will be marching from the (start location) to the (end location).

If you cannot attend in person, please consider taking part in solidarity actions such as organizing a local demonstration or reaching out to local media to raise awareness.

We are demanding the following changes:

1. Fair wages and benefits for all workers
2. An end to discrimination and harassment in the workplace
3. Recognition of workers' unions
4. Safe working conditions and ergonomic solutions
5.透明化 management practices

We hope that you will join us in this fight for justice and equality. Together, we can make a difference in the lives of these workers.
Farm Worker Spousing Associate
1900 South Wabash
929-5250

I want to become a Farm Worker Spousing Associate. I would like to receive "the action mailing." I support the Farm Workers Alliance.

Your Name
Address
Zip Code
Phone

Remember - if you want to get the up-to-date action mailing, please provide a complete mailing address.

Important Notice

The important notice is that all notices are mailed on the same day of the month. We also ask you to consider becoming a Farm Worker Spousing Associate.

About six months ago, we started sending this newsletter out. By now, all of our notices are mailed on the same day of the month. We also ask you to consider becoming a Farm Worker Spousing Associate.