Jerry Pollock Walking
Candidate Runs For Governor

Jerry Pollock, challenges Governor Williams in the historic election.

Jerry Pollock, a Phoenix attorney who has been working for twenty years to make Arizona a better place to live. A graduate of Phoenix College, Arizona State University and University of Arizona Law school, Pollock has been a member of the Arizona Young Democrats, a board member of Citizens for Many Transit, and a supporter of Governor Williams. Over the past twenty years, Jerry has been a leader of a movement to improve Arizona and a strong advocate for the people's rights. Pollock is known throughout Arizona as a people's lawyer, a citizen leader.

Since announcing his candidacy, Pollock has been walking Arizona. In the past six months, he has walked over 650 miles between Phoenix and Tucson. He has walked in the footsteps of Governor Williams, marching into a Kinney show store to browse. Soon after winning the special election for governor, it became known that there is really no better place to live. A graduate of the University of Arizona, Pollock has been a strong advocate for Arizona's future.

Jerry Pollock is a Phoenix attorney who has been working for twenty years to make Arizona a better place to live. A graduate of Phoenix College, Arizona State University and University of Arizona Law school, Pollock has been a member of the Arizona Young Democrats, a board member of Citizens for Many Transit, and a supporter of Governor Williams. Over the past twenty years, Jerry has been a leader of a movement to improve Arizona and a strong advocate for the people's rights. Pollock is known throughout Arizona as a people's lawyer, a citizen leader.

Since announcing his candidacy, Pollock has been walking Arizona. In the past six months, he has walked over 650 miles between Phoenix and Tucson. He has walked in the footsteps of Governor Williams, marching into a Kinney show store to browse. Soon after winning the special election for governor, it became known that there is really no better place to live. A graduate of the University of Arizona, Pollock has been a strong advocate for Arizona's future.

The special election for governor was held because, over the past six months, the people of Arizona have been demanding a change in leadership. The special election was held to ensure that the people of Arizona had a voice in the future of their state. Over 170,000 signatures were collected to make the special election possible, and the candidates were required to gather 15,000 signatures each to be on the ballot. The special election was held to ensure that the people of Arizona had a voice in the future of their state. Over 170,000 signatures were collected to make the special election possible, and the candidates were required to gather 15,000 signatures each to be on the ballot. The special election was held to ensure that the people of Arizona had a voice in the future of their state. Over 170,000 signatures were collected to make the special election possible, and the candidates were required to gather 15,000 signatures each to be on the ballot.

The special election for governor was held because, over the past six months, the people of Arizona have been demanding a change in leadership. The special election was held to ensure that the people of Arizona had a voice in the future of their state. Over 170,000 signatures were collected to make the special election possible, and the candidates were required to gather 15,000 signatures each to be on the ballot. The special election was held to ensure that the people of Arizona had a voice in the future of their state. Over 170,000 signatures were collected to make the special election possible, and the candidates were required to gather 15,000 signatures each to be on the ballot. The special election was held to ensure that the people of Arizona had a voice in the future of their state. Over 170,000 signatures were collected to make the special election possible, and the candidates were required to gather 15,000 signatures each to be on the ballot.
Arizona Needs a Leader Now

- No minimum wage law, All workers in Arizona earn wages which rank at bottom 10% in the United States.
- No medicare program, Only State in the U.S. which doesn’t have Medicare (cost over 20 million dollars per year benefits to citizens).
- Hospital costs in Arizona are higher than any other state except five.
- No vehicle and pollution standards even though we have more cars per capita and as much air pollution as smog plagued Los Angeles, which has vehicle anti-pollution standards.
- Only state in U.S. without a comprehensive medical care program.
- Phoenix only major city in U.S. without a mass transit system.
- No comprehensive land use plan to orderly plan growth and development.
- Extreme doctor shortage in rural counties.
- Industry and jobs moving out of state to Mexico at a record pace, working people suffer.
- Control over student curriculum is being stripped from parents and teachers and centered in a statewide bureaucracy.
- A state prison at Florence where staff so dumfounded that in one month period there was a 100% turnover in personnel.
- Grossly unfair property taxes are being forced on taxpayers by the state tax bureaucracy and its computerized approach to property assessment.
- One of the few states in U.S. which still retains right to work law.
- One of only five states in U.S. with unfair archaic farm labor legislation.

What Kind of Leader is Gov. Williams?

- Minimum wage: no action
- Unemployment: anti-action
- Urban sprawl: no action
- Highway construction: anti-action
- Medicare: anti-action
- Hospital care: no action
- Environment: no action
- Tax cuts: no action
- Education: no action
- Economy: no action
- Jobs: no action

Jerry Pollock
Walking 1000 Miles to Meet The People of Arizona

Twenty Years A Citizen Leader!

Jerry Pollock came to Arizona 20 years ago, with his parents, after attending high school in a small college town where he was inspired toward Sikhism. But trouble and pain followed him everywhere, wanting to protest till he couldn’t bear it anymore. Jerry went to work as a night watchman at the New York Times, then as a carpenter and a police officer. From there, he joined the Arizona Young Democrats.

Jerry lived in Phoenix with his two children, Mike and his older brother. He was a frequent speaker at the Young Democrats Convention and a founder member of the Arizona Young Democrats.

For over twenty years, Jerry Pollock has been one of Arizona’s spiritual leaders.

An Historic Election For A Better Arizona
Support For Jerry Pollock Grows

Candidate charges bias by newspaper

By San Quintino

Who is Jerry Pollock? He is a serious young man in his early 30's who is a labor attorney, and an outspoken critic of Governor Jack Williams policies.

Pollock is dedicated to reforming our state government. He has run against both parties and organizations are going to support him. If he wins, he will open a walk-a-call in Phoenix. We will take place in the streets, in the state and in the country who want to support him.

What qualified Jerry Pollock to seek the highest office in Arizona? He is an attorney who has practiced in the Phoenix area for 15 years. Pollock can for Congress because he defeated both times. He has been a leader in the Urban League, and is a past president of the Arizona Prison Improvement Commission. As Governor Williams, has been eloquently explained to me by his press secretary, Governor Williams' press secretary. He is very concerned because Arizona is the only state with Medicaid and without it, Arizona's people will not be safe. Jerry Pollock explains his position this way: I have been governor for the past six years, you could be certain that the working people would be treated fairly by an Industrial Commission appointed by a friend of labor, and would not be ripped off as we are now, and that would be destroyed, that a bill designed to be eliminated. We must act to eliminate "growing state bureaucracy which resists the only state in the United States where the people are going to run against each other.

Candidate Walking Through

Pollock To Walk into City

A Phoenix attorney, who has said he would support Jerry Williams recall petition signed against that the governor House has a special election, plans to walk through the streets of Phoenix to the Mexican border Pollock will announce his candidacy for governor at a press conference here to be held at the Phoenix Chamber of Commerce. Pollock will be joined by Arizona attorney, who is a member of the Arizona political party, who appeared in Sunday's discussion. He says, and Pollock is scheduled to arrive in Eloy, a town near the border to border, on December 6, 1972.

Pollock to speak here Saturday

Pollock campaigns the marathon way

Tri-community

Jerry Pollock walks through state to learn problems

Pedestrian Pollock is coming

Pollock explains his position this way: I have been governor for the past six years, you could be certain that the working people would be treated fairly by an Industrial Commission appointed by a friend of labor, and would not be ripped off as we are now, and that would be destroyed, that a bill designed to be eliminated. We must act to eliminate "growing state bureaucracy which resists the only state in the United States where the people are going to run against each other.

Pollock accuses Williams of ‘negligence and indifference’

The walking boycott for the governor's office in Arizona

By San Quintino

Pollock said that Williams has been an effective leader, but that he has failed to stand up for the working people. He said, "Williams has failed to stand up for the working people. He has failed to stand up for the working people. He has failed to stand up for the working people. He has failed to stand up for the working people. He has failed to stand up for the working people."

What are Jerry Pollock's views? He refers to himself as involved in reform politics and social justice. He is appalled by the current state bureaucracy, which resists citizens input.

Join Jerry Pollock

PHONE 258-1887

OR COME TO 112 NORTH 5th AVE PHOENIX

Governor for a better Arizona

Citizens For A Better Arizona **

112 NORTH 5th AVE PHOENIX,ARIZONA

PHONE 258-1887

PHONE 601-258-1887