

Farm Workers Sign Largest Pact to Date

DELANO, Calif., June 10 (UPI)—The signing of the largest contract to date between the United Farm Workers Organizing Committee was announced today by Cesar Chavez, farm union leader.

Calling it a "great day for farm workers and the union," Mr. Chavez said an agreement had been reached with Roberts Farms, Inc., involving one of the largest citrus and nut growing operations in California.

Hollis Roberts, president of Roberts Farms, said he was "impressed" with Mr. Chavez and was looking forward to working with the union.

Mr. Chavez characterized Mr. Roberts as a "very tough negotiator" but said there was a "lot of goodwill on both sides of the table."
