

Harvard Backs Chavez

GAMBRIDGE, Mass., Dec. 8 (AP) — Harvard University has announced that its dining halls will serve only lettuce picked by members of the United Farm Workers. L. Gard Wiggins, the university administrative vice president, said the action had been taken in support of a nationwide boycott of nonunion lettuce led by Cesar Chavez, the Chicano farm workers' leader who has been jailed for contempt of court for failing to call off the boycott.

The New York Times

Published: December 9, 1970

Copyright © The New York Times