

Los Angeles to Honor Chavez

Published: May 13, 1993

The Los Angeles City Council voted unanimously on Tuesday to rename a stretch of road for Cesar Chavez, the United Farm Workers leader who died on April 23. The council instructed the City Attorney to prepare an ordinance to change the name of a portion of Sunset Boulevard, Macy Street and Brooklyn Avenue to Cesar Chavez Boulevard.